

Immortal soul

Man has walked for centuries
But he won't dwell eternally

Such pity

We have killed, we have raped, we deserve to die
We can moan, we can scream, no one will cry

Among the living you walk, you walk
Among the dead, you'll never be, you'll never be

Immortal, slave of time, slave of space
Condemned to be alone, one foot by the tombstone
Taking one small step; the nearest asylum

Going insane, looking straight up, hey wake up!

No addiction for you, all gates are closed for now
Take your pills, close your eye, the doctor will provide

One last change, no remorse

Can you feel, can you see? No happiness in sight
In loneliness, no suicide, you'll have to stay alive

Among the living you walk, you walk
Among the dead, you'll never be, you'll never be

Among the living you walk, you walk
Among the dead, you'll never be, you'll never be
